Lisa O'Connell

Metatronic Healing is an energetic and angelic method for removing ancient traumas, destructive emotions, limiting beliefs, from deep within the cellular memory - which means from right inside the body. It digs issues out by the roots. High-frequency, pastel vibrations of light-energy are guided by the Archangel Metatron to those places in the body that have held these blocks to your health and fulfillment, and gently lift them out. These are then replaced by whatever frequency the energy body needs to support and fortify it on its journey.

Lisa O'Connell trained as a lawyer and spent over 10 years working in the hustle and bustle of the City of London. Always interested in alternative and complementary therapies, she attended her first Metatronic Healing course in November 2008. She then underwent a radical career change within a matter of just a few weeks, studying with Pippa Merivale, as she fast-tracked her way into work that makes a dramatic and lasting difference in people's lives.
