DISCOVER WHAT'S AT THE CENTRE

A CONCERT WITH ADRIAN & RAVI

ADRIAN FREEMAN & RAVI who perform with shakuhachi (Japanese Flute) and KORA (West African Harp) as well as guitar, percussion and throat singing, come together in sharing instrumentals, mantras and inspirational songs in a magical meditative setting of music and silence.

THE PROJECT

Ravi and Adrian's concerts combine the acoustic sounds of Africa and Japan with their own devotional songs, sharing instruments and songs in a meditative setting. Ravi & Adrian often expand to a trio or quartet with other musicians such as tabla player Tom Simenauer, Melissa Holding who plays Japanese harp and accordion, and Asha McCarthy who plays Indian classical music on the cello.
